Explanation

Most of the design should be self explanatory. On the right-side you will find some specific explanation.

Editable fields / Components

Editable fields are the areas, where the user can make edits. We can consider these fields as components, that make up a document. They can be of different types

1. Basic input field (number/data/email/text etc)
2. Tabular data
3. Drawing canvas (e.g. Free hand signature)
4. Image container

This way template generation becomes easier. Also, adding newer components becomes easier in future.
